EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

THE POWER OF COMMUNITY: 'The greatness of a community is most accurately measured by the compassionate actions of its members,' said Coretta Scott King — author, activist, civil rights leader and wife of Martin Luther King. Today, we live in a world where we often forget that we are part of a community and that compassion and civility towards fellows are some of the basic acts of kindness that a human being can display to fellows.

Recently the neighbour of a good friend undertook some demolition and renovation of his building, which was bang next door to the friend's. As walls were broken and iron grills cut through, a massive cloud of dust enveloped my friend's home. Not only were the family at risk for respiratory ailments and the flaring up of asthmatic conditions, but their living spaces, plants, furniture, artefacts, et al were laden with fine dust. The noise was deafening. No tarpaulin was used and workers too had no protective gear. A few other residents urged the man renovating to take due precautions. No action was taken. Finally, a complaint had to be lodged with the relevant authorities for corrective action.

While this is one instance, emptying trash and rubble in front of a neighbour's house or youngsters speeding down in their cars with music blaring and honking madly in the dead of night are other ways in which members of a community can be insensitively treated.

As residents of one locality or a larger State, we are all interconnected and, in many ways, dependent on each other. Right from looking out for each other's families, being mindful of their safety and pitching in during emergencies, thoughtful behaviour — even if only virtually on the social media group — will go a long way in fostering a sense of oneness. Something that many of us learnt during the pandemic. In an era of latchkey children and nuclear families, it does take a village to raise a child. Neither can we forget the benefits of community policing. That said, if by chance you find yourself in the circle of a difficult neighbour, just being civil is half the battle won.

What we need to realise is that there is a lot to gain from enjoying a harmonious relationship with neighbours and much to lose from doing the opposite. The world will be a better place and the home the sanctuary it is meant to be.

Robinson's dentist measured her mouth gape at 2.98 inches, earning her the title for the largest mouth gape (female).

The club said: "The management of PFC Arda would like to express a huge apology to the former Arda player Petko Ganchev and his relatives after the club received wrong information about his death. We wish Petko Ganchev many more years of good health and to enjoy the success of Arda."

Friendly Policing

▶ Traffic Cops hold placards to create awareness among motorists at signals ▶ Obey traffic rules to save your life: City Top Cop

Mysuru, Apr. 11 (RK&BS)- The City Police, who have been incorporating novel methods towards Friendly Policing to create awareness about the importance of obeying traffic rules, have deployed yet another method. Anybody may have noticed the Traffic Policemen, irrespective of cadre, holding placards with awareness slogans at prominent signal points or junctions in the city.

According to City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar, the brain behind the very idea, the innovative measure is to send a message succinctly to the motorists to wear helmet while riding a two-wheeler and fasten seat belt while driving a car, not just for the fear of watchful eyes of the Police or CCTV cameras, but to protect your own life. The slogans in Kannada meaning, "Don't Drink and Drive, We Don't Have Any Intention to Book a Case and Collect the Fine and The Rules are Being Enforced For Your Own Safety, Respect the Law of the Land," have been catching the attention of road users.

The Traffic Rules are devised to safeguard the lives of every tax-paying citizens and protect the human lives, which are of utmost significance. Better roads are built to ensure accident-free and safe passage for vehicle users, drivers and the public, she said.

"If you obey the traffic rules, you not just ensure your own safety but also of others and reach the destination at ease. Every person who sets out of the house shall be having his or her family including parents, wife and children, who will be waiting for their safe return," advised City Top Cop.

The helmet and seat belt is worn as a precaution against meeting any mishaps. If anybody has an impression that the Police have been booking a case and collecting the fine amount just to augment the source of revenue for the Government, please shed such opinions, said Seema Latkar.

Editor's Note

In Bengaluru these days I do not see any motorcycle riders, two-wheelers, without wearing helmet. I was told it was because of STRICT Police action including heavy fine.

In Mysuru, I see two-wheeler riders — single, double and triple — riding happily without wearing helmet during all hours of the day and night, exceptions apart.

This is because the Police check on the law-breakers are only on some given days and usually in the evenings. During daytime when maximum number of two-wheelers are seen on the road, there is no Police monitoring or checking so much so these riders without wearing helmet whiz past the Policemen on duty without any fear. When will Mysuru City be like Bengaluru in the matter of wearing helmet by the two-wheelers?

Ten arrested for smuggling ambergris worth Rs. 10 crore

Madikeri, Apr. 11 (KS)- Virajpet Town Police have arrested 10 persons who were found smuggling ambergris from neighbouring Kerala State and have seized 10.390 kg ambergris worth Rs. 10 crore and two vehicles from them.

Those arrested are 45-year-old S. Shamshuddin and 54-year-old M. Nawaz of Thiruvananthapuram, 53-year-old V.K. Lateesh, 40-year-old V. Rijesh, 33-year-old K.K. Jobies, 40-year-old M. Jijes and 52-year-old T. Prashanth from Kannur district, 48-year-old A.V. Raghavendra of Bhadravathi in Shivamogga district, 55-year-old Balachandra Nayak of Kasargod and 58-year-old Saju Thomas of Calicut. The Police have also seized two vehicles bearing registration numbers KL-13-AX-5197 and KL-79-A-0011 and two currency counting machines from them.

Addressing media persons at a press meet, Kodagu Superintendent of Police (SP) K. Ramarajan said that Virajpet Police officials received information that ambergris worth crores of rupees was being smuggled in two cars. On Thursday at about 8.30 am, when the Police inspected the two cars which came near Heggala Junction at Betoli village, the Virajpet Town Police seen with the arrested accused and the seized ambergris and two cars. The two cars were used to smuggle ambergris from Thiruvananthapuram in Kerala via Kodagu.

ambergris was found, the SP said and added that the accused were proceeding from Thiruvananthapuram via Kannur towards Bengaluru or Andhra Pradesh to sell the ambergris and had chosen Kodagu route to smuggle it. It is for the first time that such a huge quantity of ambergris has been seized in Kodagu.

Ambergris is a waxy substance that comes from the digestive system of sperm whales. It's valued for its unique scent and has been used in perfumes. As it is very valuable, it is also known as 'Floating Gold', the SP said and added that as some whale species are facing significant threats and are considered endangered or vulnerable, sale, trade and possession of ambergris are strictly prohibited in India under the Wildlife Protection Act, 1972, as sperm whales are a protected species.

During interrogation accused Shamshuddin is said to have told the Cops that the ambergris was given by a fisher-woman. An enquiry is going on in this regard, said the SP and added that following information provided by accused Shamshuddin to another accused Nawaz about him having the ambergris, they had decided to sell the same through Balachandra who then contacted Raghavendra and made the plan to transport it. In all, 10 accused have been arrested and a report in this regard will be produced to the Court and future course of action will be taken.

Virajpet Dy.SP S. Mahesh Kumar, Circle Inspector Anoop Madappa, Station House Officer H.S. Pramod, ASI Manjunath and staff Girish, Dharma, Nishanth and Chandrashekar, took part in the nabbing and seizing operation.

ADGP 'grills' trainee cops for 'improper drill'

"You are being paid a salary of Rs. 54,000, but still you don't know how to stand in attention"

Hassan, Apr. 11 (BS)- ADGP (Training) Alok Kumar has taken the probationary Police Officers and Training Officers to task for failing to acquire and learn proper skills during the period of foundation training.

Alok Kumar, who visited the Police Training School (PTS) at Shantigrama in the district yesterday, vented his anguish over the Police Drill performed during the Parade that was found wanting and lagging behind on many counts.

"You have completed three months of training, but still you don't know how to stand in attention, which calls for action against you," scolded Alok Kumar and then himself demonstrated following the drill caution.

He instructed the PTS Officials not to issue an Out Pass to the trainees if they fail to hone their skills.

Addressing the trainees, Alok Kumar said, "You are being paid a salary of Rs. 54,000 at the period of training, but still have failed to imbibe a better training method. Unlike other States where only stipend is given for the trainees, the salary is given in the State."

"The Karnataka Government is treating the Trainee Policemen in a better manner, but look at what you are doing?" asked ADGP Alok Kumar, pulling up the Policemen.

Man wrongfully jailed but public silence is shocking

Sir,

This refers to the article titled "God Sees the Truth, But Waits!" At last, but swiftly, our beloved doctor and columnist, Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, has expressed in his column (Star of Mysore dated Apr. 6, 2025) the heartfelt, tragic, unfortunate and unbelievable incident involving Suresh — who was arrested and kept in jail for two years as an undertrial for a crime he did not commit: The alleged murder of his wife, who is very much alive and living with her paramour, having abandoned her two young children.

This act of gross negligence and criminal misconduct should not go unpunished, regardless of who is responsible. It is shocking and disturbing that both the public and political leaders have remained silent about an incident that could happen to anyone.

Our Police and justice systems should hang their heads in shame over this incident. Even social media has shown only a meek response, and society remains as silent as if deaf, dumb and blind. Will justice ever be served for this poor man?

I sincerely appreciate social activist and lawyer Pandu Pujari for stepping in to help him. This incident should have sparked public outrage and drawn strong reactions from Opposition parties.

One can only imagine the mental, physical and social agony endured by this innocent man. One must hope that there still exists some sense of sympathy and empathy for such injustices — at least in the form of public protest.

Remembering K. Srikantiah

A Great Patron of Music

As announced yesterday in this column, I am reproducing what I wrote about K. Srikantiah in Star of Mysore in 1990.

Hey Ram! Hello Ram!

We may be rid of the Ramayana serial on TV but not the annual feature of Ramanavami — Lord Rama's birthday.

I don't know why Ramanavami is linked to music concerts and I don't know if it is a feature only in South India or all over India.

Mercifully, unlike during the Ganapathy Festival and Ayyappa Swamy season, Ramanavami music festivals are not only full of religious fervour but also have only classical music by the well-known musicians. That of course, is doing a great honour to our King Rama and showing devotion to God Rama at the same time.

I am very happy that Ramanavami has not yet degenerated into a pop culture and its solemnity is maintained.

Mysoreans particularly seem to be very devoted to Lord Rama if we go by the number of music concerts that are being currently held. Important among them are, of course, the famous Bidaram Krishnappa Rama Mandira and Chowdaiah Memorial Trust of Mr. K. Srikantiah.

Incidentally, K. Srikantiah used to hold his annual Chowdaiah Memorial Ramanavami music programmes in his own premises on Vani Vilas Road on a specially constructed pandal which used to be an ideal locale for the music concerts, particularly in summer with a sort of open-air atmosphere. I wonder why the venue had to be shifted to the Jaganmohan Palace Auditorium.

Incidentally, Kosambari (a mixture of Bengal gram and coconut spiced with mustard and green chilly), Panaka (juice), and Neeru Majjige (butter milk) are being customarily served to the people who visit the Rama Mandiras. I don't know if this tradition is still maintained or shelved because of the cost of the ingredients that go to make them.

And finally, my friend Vijay says that a function was held at the Maharaja's College on the Ramanavami day to felicitate Kuvempu on his winning the Jnanpith Award for his magnum opus 'Sri Ramayana Darshanam' and, of course, the organisers did not forget to serve Kosambari, Panaka and Neeru Majjige.

And on this occasion, I also remember the famous last words of Mahatma Gandhi 'Hey Ram!'

K. Srikantiah on Saint Thyagaraja

Reacting to my remarks in this column, about Ramanavami, Mr. K. Srikantiah of Chowdaiah Memorial Trust has this to say:

Taking up my first point, why during Ramanavami classical music festivals are held etc., Mr. Srikantiah says: It is because most of the Krithis about Sri Rama are composed by Saint Thyagaraja in praise of Lord Sri Rama. It seems Saint Thyagaraja, as his name indicates, was a great Saint who was an ardent devotee of Sri Rama. He always sang in praise of his Lord. Nearly 90 percent of all the songs that were composed by Thyagaraja are about Sri Rama.

CITY BUSES ARRANGED
INFANTS STRICTLY NOT ALLOWED.

However, he never sat down and wrote his songs. He simply sang them out of sheer inspiration. And we owe a debt to Saint Thyagaraja's disciples who wrote down those compositions and put the notations so that they could sing them properly.

Now I know why Ramanavami festival cannot degenerate into a pop musical concert. Thanks to Saint Thyagaraja, the solemnity of the occasion can be maintained.

As regards why Mr. Srikantiah has shifted the venue of his popular musical concert to Jaganmohan Palace, he says it was because of irritants that he had to suffer while organising this concert. He started getting letters from his friends, well-wishers and also from those who are not quite friendly saying that the atmosphere in the pandal was not congenial for a classical music concert

Moreover, he was also plagued by constant power failure, thanks to KEB. Power supply from the Genset often disturbed the vocalists and instrumentalists. Added to all this, the inconvenience caused to the general public as a result of the road being blocked in front of the pandal. And then Mr. Srikantiah had to arrange for Police bandobust and face the public complaints (from the students and the neighbourhood) about the loudspeaker menace.

According to Mr. Srikantiah half his energy used to be lost in putting up the pandal and attending to other arrangements. He says, "Twenty one marriages could be conducted for the trouble of conducting one Ramanavami music concert." I should say he is right.

At the Jaganmohan Palace, there are no irritants. More than that there is less room for any distraction, both for the RASIKAS and the ARTISTES.

Mr. Srikantiah tells me that he had conducted the programme under the special pandal for the last 20 years and it is only since last year that he shifted the venue to Jaganmohan Palace

Shifting of Ramanavami Music Concert Venue

Last Saturday, I had mentioned about the reasons why the Chowdaiah Memorial Trust of K. Srikantiah shifted the venue to the Jaganmohan Palace Auditorium.

Now Mr. Srikantiah tells me that no one told him that the pandal was not congenial for classical music concerts, not even those who are not quite friendly.

In fact, the venue was rather ideal, particularly with regard to the acoustics and many had asked him why he shifted. The 'Why' of it, of course, has already been answered.

MUDA invites tender

To ease the traffic congestion on the existing ORR, with the spurt in number of tourists visiting the district being a tourism hub year-on-year touching an estimate of 40 lakh, the PRR has been mooted by MUDA. Moreover, six industrial areas exist in the surroundings of the city, apart from the Nanjangud Industrial Areas. With a semi-conductor plant approved to be established in Nanjangud, it may augment the density of traffic significantly in the coming days, it is said.

While Mysore Airport at Mandakalli is being upgraded, other proposals include Bullet Train and widening of Mysuru-Mangaluru Highway, as part of its upgradation plan. Preparations are being made for Mysuru-Kushalnagar Expressway works, prompting the need for PRR.

Prior to preparing the DPR, the company that bags the tender shall be inspecting the land identified for constructing the Peripheral Ring Road and areas like that of lake and forest and electricity installations and canals through which the PRR may pass through and the cost involved in shifting, land acquisition, construction of overbridges, service road and other basic infrastructural facilities.

In the next stage, the DPR will be submitted to MUDA to seek approval for the PRR project in its meeting and then it will be submitted to the Government to seek its consent. It is only if the Government approves the PRR project that the implementation of the most ambitious project will begin with the acquisition of land earmarked for the project.

> "Visualising the future traffic density up to 40-50 years, MUDA has planned to construct a Peripheral Ring Road and has set aside Rs. 7.7 crore for preparing the DPR in its recent budget. The global tenders have been invited and the successful bidder will be issued the work order. It is only after DPR is prepared that the cost related to land acquisition and road works would be known."

Friendly Policing

ACP (Traffic) Shivashankar said, accidents occur either due to speed and reckless driving or faulty road designs, without any ill motives. But if one is aware, they can avoid accidents, irrespective of big or small, he observed.

The accidents may be classified as fatal or non-fatal, but leave a lasting pain. Some of the injured persons may end up with permanent disability or even lose their mental balance for suffering grievous head injuries. If a family loses a breadwinner, the dependents will be pushed to deep crisis and their lives will be reduced to a pittance, said ACP Shivashankar, striking a emotional chord.

Some of the vehicle riders have the habit of wearing helmet or seat belt instantly at the sight of the Police and remove them, soon after passing through the Police surveillance. It may lead to a death trap and refrain from continuing with such a practice, advised the ACP.

Regular briefing on Do's and Don'ts

Of late, the Police are given regular briefing at their respective Police Stations, about do's and don'ts while on duty. The tips are being given on how to maintain a good physical and mental health by adopting healthy practices like yogasana, meditation and physical exercise.

All these and many other novel plans in the offing are collectively aimed at making the Police shed a laidback attitude and develop active mindset, with those deputed on traffic duty bitten by the smart phone bug.

They are constantly seen glued to their cell phone, a matter of constant worry for the top Officers.

Series of holidays bring tourists in hordes to Mysuru

Mysuru, Apr. 11 (MTY&BS)- Following back to back Government holidays, there has been a huge influx of tourists in the city since Friday.

While the children are already soaking in the spirit of summer vacation since a month, the parents especially those busy in their office, have planned a family tour, cashing in on a series of holidays and hence the spurt in tourist numbers.

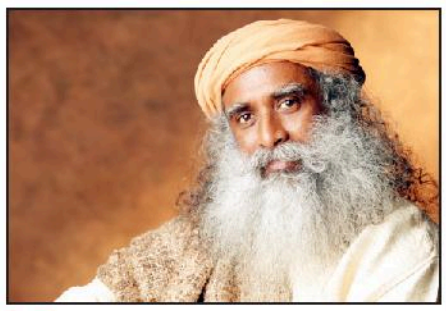
For record, Apr. 10 was Mahaveer Jayanti, Apr. 12 is second Saturday, Apr. 13 is Sunday and Apr. 14 is Monday, a holiday again for Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Jayanti. If the office-goers meticulously plan and obtain a leave for Friday (Apr. 11), they can easily plan their itinerary for five days. Going by the enquiries at hotels with lodging facilities, home stays and other tourist accommodations, the tourists are eager to book rooms in advance.

As usual, the prominent tourist destinations of the city — Mysore Palace, Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens (Zoo) and Chamundi Hill, will be brimming with tourists for four days, so also at the prominent tourist destinations in the surroundings like — KRS dam in Srirangapatna taluk in Mandya, Nanjangud, Talkad and Chamarajanagar district.

President of Mysore District Hotel Owners Association C. Narayanagowda said, following a series of holidays, the tourist footfalls is huge since Apr. 11.

Meanwhile, the safari at Bandipur and Nagarahole forests has also been a favourite among the tourists, with advance bookings made online.

MYSTIC'S MUSINGS



By Sadhguru - Founder, Isha Foundation

Accessing Pure Intelligence on the Path of Gnana Yoga

Sadhguru: In modern times, the human mind is increasingly seen as a source of torment rather than wonder. Unfortunately, a source of magic has turned into a mess, a miraculous instrument into a misery-manufacturing machine.

All human beings are capable of becoming the sole architects of their inner lives, if they knew how to use the mind. The problem is just that their mind is not taking instructions from them. Imagine a caveman punching a computer keyboard: the result would look like a series of obscenities! That sums up the way most people use their minds.

The Essence of Intellect

A gnana yogi begins by using his intellect, but soon realises the limitations of this faculty. The function of the intellect is essentially to recycle data gathered from the outside world via the sense organs. In short, the intellect is pure information technology. It is a wonderful instrument, and absolutely vital for our survival.

However, the problem today is that the intellect has assumed a disproportionately important role. The essence of the intellect is to divide. So humanity has embarked on a journey of wholesale dissection. We have split everything, including the invisible atom.

We have forgotten that human logic is necessarily limited because it is based on fragmentary and inaccurate information from our sense organs. It is said that when the first European ships went to North America, the native tribes could see people coming towards them, but they could not see the ship. This was simply because they had never seen a ship before. Whether this story is true or apocryphal, it is a fact that if there is no past information about an object in your mind, you cannot even perceive it. It is not religion that tells us this, but modern neuroscience.

Approaching the Infinite

The gnana yogi begins to realise that when it comes to the mystical dimension, the intellect is of no consequence. He sees that however great the volume, the data gathered by the intellect will always remain finite. It is impossible to approach the infinite through the finite. And so, the gnana yogi learns to use the intellect the way a drunkard uses a lamp post — for support rather than illumination. He does not seek a Ph.D to validate the knowledge he has amassed. Instead, he understands that the intellect is an instrument of analysis, not perception. To perceive, another faculty is required.

Pure Intelligence

Gradually, those on the gnana yoga path learn to access the deepest dimension of human intelligence, which connects them with the very basis of creation. This realm is known as chitta. They realise that if you soak your intellect in chitta — consciousness unsullied by memory — it can grow razor-sharp, turn into a miraculous tool of bliss and liberation, and deliver you effortlessly to the ultimate.

If you look at your body, you realise what an incredibly complex chemical factory it is. There is undeniably a profound intelligence managing this great chemical dance. But do you think you will ever be able to conduct this chemical dance intellectually? You cannot manage a single cell in your body that way!

The phenomenal dance of chemistry and neurons within the human system is conducted by none other than chitta or pure intelligence. And this pure intelligence is not different from what we refer to as God or the Creator. If you operate out of the straitjacket of logic, you just remain a clown in the circus of life. But when you operate from the unbounded dimension of chitta, you become a blissful participant in the life process. The mind is no more a circus. Now, life is nothing short of a dance — a superbly choreographed dance between you and the entire cosmos.

MGP meeting on Apr. 13

Mysuru, Apr. 11- "With greater awareness of the need to protect the environment, most of us are aware of the need to ensure that the air we breathe has minimal amount of pollutants. Over the years, we have enough number of environment laws on books to regulate emissions from our autos, cars, buses and trucks," stated a press release from Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) which has convened a meeting at MGP Office in Yadavagiri on Sunday (Apr.13) at 4 pm.

There were even times NGOs had protested to ensure the implementation of these laws. However, over the years, there has been less interest to monitor the air pollution caused by vehicles both on the part of the officials and the public. Since such pollution affects health only after a long time in most cases, we have been ignoring this important health hazard. Before the pollution reaches the tipping point, we need to take action. Keeping this in mind, MGP has invited concerned officials to discuss the current state of vehicular pollution and the action to be taken. Ramachandra, Regional Transport Officer; Manohar, RTO West and Anil, Motor Vehicle Inspector will attend the meeting. [Ph:0821-2515150].

135th Ramotsava of Ramabhyudaya Sabha: Day-3

Spontaneous Singing...

Vid. Vishnudev Namboothiri from Kerala giving a vocal concert at Alammana Choultry in Srirampet on Apr. 8. He is accompanied by Anilakkad R. Jayakrishnan on mridanga, Vid. Srinidhi Kaundinya on ghata and Vid. C.S. Anuroop on violin.

On the third day of the music series of Sri Ramabhyudaya Sabha at Alammana Choultry in Srirampet, Vid. Vishnudev Namboothiri from Kerala gave a vocal concert with Vid. C.S. Anuroop on violin, Vid. Anilakkad R. Jayakrishnan on mridanga and Vid. Srinidhi Kaundinya on ghata.

Groomed under Nayveli Santala Gopalan and P.S. Narayana Swamy, Vishnudev has established himself in the field of Karnatak music. An engineer-turned Karnatak vocalist, he has practiced devotedly to offer spontaneous music to music rasikas.

A brisk varna in Vasanta 'Ninnukori' by Tachchur Singarachari set to Adi tALA in two speeds was the opener. 'Rara maayinti dhaaka,' a rare Tyagaraja composition in Asaveri came as a happy surprise as not many musicians sing it in concerts.

Kharaharapriya was extraordinary wherein Vishnudev employed all vocal techniques, curves, glides, brigas and frills and yet all within the frame of tradition. 'SamAnamevaru RAma nee SamAnamevaru' by Sri Tyagaraja was rendered satisfactorily with a detailed neraval at 'Paluku Palukulaku' followed by intellectual swara essay. The vocalist's confidence throughout the concert, which obviously is the result of his dedicated practice, was admirable.

Another rare number 'Jaya Jaya RaghurAma' in Shahana by Sri Swati Tirunal was a welcome filler after which Hindola was presented. Vishnudev's version of the raga was aesthetic, exhaustive and very pleasant and the composition that followed 'RAmanukku manam muDi dharittale' by Arunachala Kavi brought smiles of memories to the elders in the audience.

The other highlight of the evening was Purvikalyani. Vishnudev explored the beauty of the raga step by step, the 15 minute alapana climaxing in long upper-range passages, leading onto the most beautiful kriti 'Parama pAvana RAma' set to ADitAla vilamba composed by Ramanathapuram Srinivasa Iyengar, with an elaborate neraval at the charana part 'KanakAmbaradhara karuNAnvitavara', the swara essay filled with raga bhava not being just an exercise. Jayakrishnan and Srinidhi Kaundinya gave ample display of their percussive skill in their Taniyavartanam.

'KodanDa deeksha gurum,' a shloka on RAma was sung in rAgamAlika with Abheri, Hameer Kalyani and finally Kamas leading to 'RAma jogi mandu konare,' a bewitching composition of Bhadrachala Ramadasar. Devaranama 'RAma RAma RAma SeetA RAma enniro' by Purandara Dasaru and an interesting nottu by Dikshitar on Rama concluded the concert.

Everything was in soulful proportion in Vishnudev's concert.
